Ashland announces new composites distribution agreement for France with Velox

BARCELONA, Spain, June 21 2018 – Ashland today announced it has appointed VELOX as its new main composites distributor for France. The new distribution agreement, which is effective July 1, 2018, includes all Ashland unsaturated polyester resin, gel coat, low-profile additives products and epoxy vinyl ester resins, including Derakane™. All activities previously managed by Quimidroga, will transfer to VELOX France SAS per July 1, 2018.

"We are excited to have VELOX representing us in the French market," said Alessandro Lago, sales director, Composites, EMEA. "The VELOX team has considerable commercial experience in the composites business and the right technical expertise to support Ashland's growth in the French market."
