Covington, Ky. - The following was issued today by Ashland Inc. (NYSE:ASH):

FISCAL 2004: FIRST QUARTER HIGHLIGHTS

- o December quarter income recovered sharply due to stronger performance from wholly owned businesses.
- - Sales increased 11 percent.
- - Operating income increased 188 percent.
- o Results from refining and marketing were tempered by increased crude oil costs.

Ashland Inc. today reported net income of $34 million, or 49 cents a share, for the quarter ended December 31, 2003, the first quarter of the company's 2004 fiscal year. These results compared to a net loss of $92 million, or $1.35 a share, for the first quarter of 2003. Ashland's income from continuing operations for the first quarter of 2004 amounted to $39 million, or 56 cents a share, compared to a loss of $1 million, or 2 cents a share, for the quarter a year ago. The difference between net income and income from continuing operations results primarily from reserves for asbestos liabilities.

"Our performance during the December quarter was very encouraging," said James J. O'Brien, Ashland Inc. chairman and chief executive officer.
"In fiscal 2003, we focused on changing the way we run our businesses. In fiscal 2004, we are focusing on execution of our strategies. As our first quarter performance shows, we are growing sales volumes while lowering selling, general and administrative expenses.

"The overall performance of our wholly owned businesses demonstrates the strength of our corporate strategy," O'Brien said. "Ashland Paving And Construction (APAC), Ashland Specialty Chemical, Ashland Distribution and Valvoline continued to lower fixed costs and increase revenues. APAC also benefited from closer-to-normal weather, which enabled construction efficiencies and higher asphalt production."

REVIEW OF OPERATIONS

Commenting on operations, O'Brien noted that results from APAC improved significantly compared to the December quarter a year ago. Operating income was $30 million versus near break-even results in 2003. Net construction job revenues increased 20 percent, while asphalt production was up 18 percent. Lower equipment costs coupled with the positive impact of other cost-reduction efforts also contributed to APAC's improved performance. Construction backlog, or jobs awarded but not yet completed, was $1.7 billion at the end of the quarter, a level comparable to a year ago.

APAC will continue to focus on improving its operating performance in fiscal 2004. As was recently announced, Garry M. Higdem was named senior vice president of Ashland Inc. and president of APAC effective January 12, 2004. Higdem will utilize his background in construction management, large projects and branch operations to continue APAC's strategic progress and to leverage its strong construction capabilities with both small and large projects.

Operating income for Ashland Specialty Chemical rose 77 percent to $23 million. Increased profits were driven by improved sales volumes in its thermoset resins business and strong revenues from its water treatment group. Specialty Chemical's strong first quarter performance is due in part to its continuing penetration of high value markets, such as foundry sleeves, cultured marble for the construction industry, clear label adhesives and pathogen control in waterborne systems.

Valvoline reported a record December quarter with operating income of $20 million, compared to $15 million in the 2003 quarter. Valvoline-branded lubricant sales volumes improved 5 percent on the strength of a 20-percent increase in premium product sales volumes. Valvoline Instant Oil Change (VIOC) also had an all-time record quarter. Operating income rose 49 percent due in part to a 9-percent increase in revenues from transmission, cooling, fuel and air quality system services and a 7-percent increase in premium lubricant oil changes.

Ashland Distribution continues to improve results with operating income up 44 percent to $13 million. Successful efforts to lower costs contributed to the division's performance. Ashland Distribution also demonstrated its ability to grow faster than its markets with sales per shipping day up by 9 percent, and sales volumes up by 6 percent.

Ashland's operating income from refining and marketing was $26 million compared to $24 million last year. Results from Marathon Ashland Petroleum LLC (MAP) improved primarily due to less planned maintenance during the December quarter, enabling MAP to process about 8 million more barrels of crude oil and other feedstocks. However, the increased volumes were offset by a sharp increase in crude oil costs during December, which resulted in lower margins, particularly in MAP's primary Midwest market.

"Overall, our businesses performed well this quarter," O'Brien said. "We continue to take steps towards our goal of top-quartile performance versus our industry peers."

In other corporate developments, debt was reduced by $40 million in the December quarter. The company also met the goals previously announced in its Top-Quartile Cost Structure Program, including the reduction of 400 positions before the end of November 2003.
